UNIVERSITY CLUB OBJECTS.

Complains of Delay in Completing Georgetown Improvements.

The delay in the development of the property along the Palisades of the Potomac, as well as the land on Conduit road, has been called to the attention of the Commissioners through a communication from John M. Gitterman, of the University Club.

Mr. Gitterman says the Conduit road ends nowhere, and that the haul through Georgetown and Pennsylvania avenue is cut off by the declivity which the Conduit road makes in its junction with Pennsylvania avenue. The Conduit road, he says, could be extended along the highway in such a manner that the trolley line would be a line along the new street through which the Conduit road into Georgetown could be laid. By this means, he contends, the question of opening up Forty-second street at that point would be avoided, and it is believed that the college authorities would not offer any objections to the proposed plan.

Engineer of Highways Capt. C. B. Hunt, in commenting on the proposed improvements, says the plan submitted by Mr. Gitterman is practically the continuation of Prospect street westward from Thirty-seventh street extended. The physical difficulties, Capt. Hunt says, of extending Prospect street between Thirty-seventh street and its crossing with Conduit road are great and would necessitate the construction of a costly bridge.

SHERIFF GETS YOUNG MAN.

Does It at Request of a Rockville Maiden.

Clifford E. Gray, of Montgomery County, Md., arrested by central office detectives yesterday on a serious charge, the warrant being issued by Sheriff G. W. Mullean, of Montgomery County. The complainant is Virginia Hall, a young woman living near Rockville. Gray is not yet of age, and was working for a local milk dealer when placed under arrest. Sheriff Mullean will remove his charge to the Montgomery County jail this morning.

REMOVED TO INSANE RETREAT.

Business Troubles Mentally Unbalanced Thomas R. Martin.

Thomas R. Martin, formerly a well-known business man of Washington, was transferred yesterday from the Mounts-Ville Penitentiary to the Government Hospital for the Insane.

Martin has been suffering from intense melancholy ever since his failure in business. His subsequent arrest, conviction and imprisonment for embezzlement so far unhinged his mind that he became violent some days ago.

Superintendent W. A. White, of the asylum, said yesterday that he felt sure that Martin would ultimately recover his reason.

Accidental Death Verdict.

Physicians and attendants were witnesses. Funeral services will be held to-morrow from the home of a brother, Thomas F. Ryan, 1427 S street. Mass will be celebrated at St. Paul's Church at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

WILL GIVE LAND FOR PARK HIGHWAY

Means of Access by Trolley to Rock Creek.

CAPT. HICKEY MAKES OFFER

A Strip of Land One-half Mile Long Placed at Disposal of Park Commission—By Extension of Seventh Street Line, Would Open North End of Park—Great Natural Basin.

Another substantial supporter of the Washington Herald campaign to popularize Rock Creek Park came forward yesterday in the person of Capt. J. M. Hickey, of the Elsmere, H street northwest, well known as the president of the Confederate Memorial Association, and closely identified with the Southern patriotic associations having headquarters in this city.

"I have taken a deep concern," said Capt. Hickey last night at his apartments in the Elsmere, "in the effort of the Washington Herald to arouse public sentiment among the masses to popularize Rock Creek Park and heartily endorse all the suggestions that have been made to make that the resort of the people. While the most romantic and picturesque natural park that I know of in this section of the country, practically unknown to the people of Washington, for whose especial benefit it was purchased, it is the most inaccessible and least known in the entire District."

"The only way to make the park accessible is to extend the car lines. I am in a position to offer to the park commission or District Commissioners a tract of land sixty feet wide and over a half mile in length, free, to be used as a highway connecting the Seventh street road directly with Rock Creek Park. This tract of land extends from the District line east, from a point on the Seventh street road, midway between Seventh street proper and the power house on the west."

Great Natural Basin.

"With a branch line of cars over the Seventh street road to this land, thence to the park the site of that great natural basin in the northern end of the park could be made accessible. Then I would suggest that that line of cars be run so as to connect on the west of the park with the Chevy Chase line."

"In the great natural basin I have referred to there are between seventy-five and one hundred acres of land. This basin could be made into a large artificial lake, to be fed by a small stream that flows into Rock Creek just below that point. The cost would be inconsiderable."

"In the immediate vicinity of this lake I would suggest the location of playgrounds, ball grounds, tennis courts, golf links, swings, and other amusements and sports. Run the Seventh street car line into and through this section of the park and thence on down to the Zoo and connect it up with the Columbia road line and the Chevy Chase line, and you will have done much to popularize the park."

Suggests Cars to Zoo.

"Another suggestion for transportation facilities is that a line be built from the terminus of the Rock Creek Park line at Kensington to the power house, into the park, and then down to the Zoo. The Seventh street line extension suggested over the highway through my land would care for all visitors to the park from the eastern section of the city, while the Rock Creek line extension from Kensington would offer transportation facilities for the western section of the city."

"I see that Commissioner West has suggested that a swimming pool or bathing beach be established in the park to accommodate the boys of the northern section."

"I heartily endorse this and would suggest in addition that if the artificial lake is made, that a big band stand be erected there. I'm glad to see that the Commissioners are taking seriously the matter of popularizing Rock Creek Park and have read with pleasure that the Engineer Commissioner is considering feasible plans for the extension of the car lines to make the place accessible, and other improvements for the amusement and pleasure of the masses."

"If the park commission or the District Commissioners will investigate the plan I propose for the new highway to connect the Seventh street car line with the park, the creation of the big artificial lake, and the other amusements proposed, I think they will see that it is not only practical, but will open up the park to the people as no other single plan could."

CANNOT ACCEPT GIFT.

Location of Land Offered District Not Suitable for Highways.

By reason of the fact that land owned by Edgar R. Jackson, which he desires to present to the District government for highway uses, is so situated that it can be used in the extension of highways, Corporation Counsel Thomas has advised the Commissioners that they cannot accept the gift. Mr. Thomas says an act of Congress prohibits its acceptance. The land offered the District by Mr. Jackson consists of four acres in Douglas property, used as a highway, and on which the owner has to pay taxes as private property.

RELIEF FOR BABIES

District Officials to Combat Infant Mortality.

FREE MILK AND MEDICINE

Commissioner Macfarland Confers with Health Officer Regarding Extension of Further Aid to Children of Indigent Poor—Aim to Keep Step with Similar Work in Other Cities.

In the interest of the babies of the poor, Commissioner Macfarland yesterday held a conference with Dr. William C. Woodward, health officer, for the purpose of extending plans whereby provision may be made for extending free medical and nurse service to this class of children.

The need of providing safe milk at the lowest possible prices was also considered.

The members of the Instructive Nurses' Society, who work among the indigent poor, nursing sick children and instructing mothers in the best methods of care and treatment for prevention of summer sickness, and free medical service and a generous supply of free ice, have accomplished much for the alleviation of suffering in the tenement districts. The good work is being prosecuted with vigor.

Commissioner Macfarland and Dr. Woodward see the necessity of further extending this work and obtaining for the suffering children of the poor a cheap and abundant supply of safe milk.

He pointed out that the milk commission of Chicago has established throughout the city stations where the poor can obtain at prices within their reach milk that can be safely given to babies. Ten physicians are assigned for three hours each day to these milk stations for the purpose of examining such children as may be brought to the stations. They give advice as to feeding, dressing, and general care of children, and give medical and surgical treatment free. A corps of trained nurses canvass the territory and give professional, hygienic, medical, and nursing advice. Daily reports are made to the health department showing the condition of the health of the poor children of the city, and in this way preventive steps can be taken to handle the situation in suppressing an epidemic and securing the best treatment to sick poor children.

The Chicago health department acts as a clearing house for certain charity organizations interested in lessening of infant mortality. The United Charities' Association investigates certain neighborhoods where infant deaths have been numerous.

In addition to this, the Tuberculosis Institute will take special cognizance of cases in which infants coming under observation need special care and will see that they are properly provided for. The Chicago Medical Society is to co-operate with the infants' welfare committee in furnishing deserving indigent persons necessary medical care and treatment. The Chicago Homeopathic Medical Society and other medical societies are to be asked to co-operate in like manner. Arrangements have been made, too, whereby physicians will meet at various places from time to time groups of parents and nurses and others having the care of children or an interest in their welfare, to instruct them with respect to the hygiene of infancy and childhood.

It is the hope of Commissioner Macfarland that either through a generous contribution of some wealthy philanthropist, or by small contributions, means may be raised to meet the pressing need for a cheaper and free supply of safe milk and that the medical and nurse service may be enlarged and extended. He will renew his efforts to secure an adequate appropriation to meet the needs of the city.

Washington in the same position regarding the reduction of infantile mortality as other large cities.

CHURCHES ASK HEARING.

Will Protest Permit for Plow Pit Near Their Property.

The members of St. Martin's Church, North Capitol and T streets, through the Holy Name Union, have filed a protest with the Commissioners against the location of the "plow pit" of the traction company in front of the church property, and ask that they be given a hearing before a permit is issued to the trolley company to build the pit.

The union is a representative body, made up from these congregations: St. Joseph's, St. Dominic's, St. Peter's, St. Vincent de Paul's, Holy Comforter, St. Anthony's, St. Martin's, St. Matthew's, and St. Paul's.

SON TAKEN SERIOUSLY ILL.

Secretary Dickinson Called Suddenly to Tennessee.

Secretary of War Dickinson left Washington yesterday for his country home at Belle Meade, near Nashville, Tenn., in response to a telegram from Mrs. Dickinson, saying that their son, Capt. Overton Dickinson, of the Tennessee National Guard, was seriously ill.

Overton Dickinson is the eldest son of the Secretary of War, and when taken ill was engaged in target practice at Waverly, Tenn., preparing for the coming rifle match at Camp Perry.

The annual tournament of St. John's Church will be held at Forest Glen to-day. There will be two games of ball between the tournament riding, which begins at 2 o'clock. EXCURSIONS.

The magnificent steamer "Dreamland," which plies between Baltimore and Chesapeake Beach in connection with the excursions, including a ride by trolley and a sail on historic Chesapeake Bay, is said to be a going palace. Those who have made the trip wish to go to-day, and say that the round trip to the beach by way of Baltimore is one of the most delightful day's outings they have ever experienced. But the pleasure of such a reasonable and enjoyable journey by both land and water is not the only bright side to the excursion. In fact every view of it shows attractiveness that appeals to all alike. The bathing, which is always the feature of the salt water resort, is probably the best to be found within a short distance of Washington, while the human element, and the many other amusements that are a part and parcel of every resort afford ample opportunity for those who are amusement bent. Belvidere Hotel, a most thoroughly appointed hostelry in every department, as well as a reasonably conducted one from the guests' standpoint, has but recently come into the management of new hands, Mr. Schwartz, well known in Washington on account of his connection with the Chop House, is now in full charge of this hotel, and it is said that he is embodying in his administration the successful enterprise that has made for his reputation.

MEGAPHONE MAN IN TOWN.

J. Henry Smythe Won Fame Working for Taft and Sherman.

J. Henry Smythe, Jr., of Philadelphia, president of the University of Pennsylvania Republican Club, and known as "The Grand Old Party Megaphone Man," registered last night at the New Willard. Smythe won fame through leading the cheering at two Republican national conventions and by campaign speeches.

The Boy Orator is in Washington to invite several celebrities to address next winter the U. of P. Republican Club, of which sons of Congressmen Lafawn, Moore, and Wanger are the other officers.

Smythe saw the Roosevelt and Taft inaugurations. On March 3, at the White House, he shook hands with the retiring President, and on March 5, he extended to the new Chief Executive, his "best wishes for a successful administration."

In Chicago last year, Smythe led the delegates in "Three cheers for Taft and Sherman!" In 1904 the megaphone man created the record-breaking "Roosevelt" ovation.

ELLA W. GRAF SEES DIVORCE.

Charges Husband with Cruelty and Habitual Intemperance.

Ella W. Graf yesterday entered suit for a limited divorce against Frank G. Graf, charging cruelty, ungovernable temper, and habitual intemperance. The Grafes were married in this city August 25, 1902, and there are five children, all of whom are in the custody of Mrs. Graf.

It is alleged by the plaintiff that Graf receives a monthly salary of at least $50, and that he is the owner of premises 1128 Park road northwest. The complainant asks for alimony, the custody of the children, and also requests the court to restrain Graf from selling or encumbering the property, 1128 Park road, and from in any way molesting her or interfering with her.

Commissioners Stand Firm for Printing Contract Award.

The letting of the contract for the printing of the list of delinquent taxpayers is questioned by Charles T. The case has been referred to the Commissioners, who see no reason why the case should be reopened, as the contract has been awarded to the Globe Printing Company. The successful company was not the lowest bidder, but got the contract, as explained by Property Clerk Hargrove, on account of possessing a plant with which to do the work.

"No Place Like Home; No Homes Like Ours."

THE APPROACH TO THE NEW MODEL, MIDDAGH & SHANNON, INC., HOMES OF A HUNDRED IDEAS IN WOODLEY PARK.

Contain the Combined Ideas of the Men and Women of Washington.

In addition to the innovations suggested by the women of Washington, we have also incorporated the ideas considered by men to contribute to the comfort of a home. These features are distinctive of these structures, and appear only in Middagh & Shannon, Inc., homes.

One of the important innovations introduced in these homes is a charming living room on the first floor in place of the formal parlor. The lots being generously wide, 20x120 feet, the rooms are commodious and closet space ample.

There is no reason why a man should continue to pay rent when we offer him so generous a purchase plan. No man can afford to be indifferent to this opportunity. To grasp this opportunity moment to buy a home at rental rates means to become the owner of your home at no greater expense than you are now under.

To illustrate—Suppose your grocer would say: "I will give you $48.50 worth of groceries each month, but will arrange it so that an average of $37.45 will come back to you as money saved." Do you see the vital point in this offer? Our proposition is the same thing.

Only one home is finished, and is a "sample" of the perfect completeness that will appear in the other buildings. Our sample home is our guarantee of the quality of materials and workmanship that distinguishes our homes. Look into every feature, every detail; consider each innovation, and see if you will not agree that the result is as delightful a home as you could desire, and accessible to you because of our terms, about which we would like to talk to you.
